157	ADDITIONAL INFORMATION – ADDITIONAL NOTE (added May 13, 2025): There is a lot of conjecture about the attribution of this piece. We don't know precisely who this person was or exactly when this piece was struck. It is a very interesting research piece. NOTES FROM THE CONSIGNOR (added May 13, 2025): The legend clearly reads “مما امر به احمد بن حفص” (By order of Ahmad b. Hafs). The small alphabet “ه” below the word “Allah” generally appears on Caliph Haroun al 'Rashid's coins. We are also aware that most of the Governorates during Abassid period were granted to those who would bid the highest return in the form of revenues and spoils. Ahmad b. Hafs who had this donative fractional dirham struck was obviously a contender for the governorate of some province. Perhaps he was unsuccessful in clinching the post he was after. His patronymic “Hafs” points to a possible connection with Kulthum b. Hafs or Amr b Hafs in Sind.
